3 WORLD POWERS IN GREAT BATTLE

TEUTONS WIN FIRST LINE DEFENSE

Push Allies Back in Belgium; Withdrawal Said to Be a Strategic Move

BRITISH ENGAGED FOE AT MONS IN BELGIUM

British and Germans Now Fully Engaged in Great Battle

LONDON, Aug. 24.—That the Germans in Belgium have broken the first line of the allies' defenses was announced from the war information bureau tonight. As a result, it was stated, the withdrawal of the allies from their original position on the French border had become necessary. This withdrawal was explained as for "purely strategic reasons."

An early official war office announcement was made today that the British army has engaged the Germans at Mons, Belgium. "The British are holding their ground," the dispatch said.

Russians Overwhelm Germans
LONDON, Aug. 24.—Russian troops are literally overwhelming the Germans in East Prussia, according to a St. Petersburg dispatch, received today. Nearly a million Russians, it is stated, were driving back about half their number of Germans. Austria is unable to aid Germany on account of the Russians on their own border.

SERVIA DOWNS AUSTRIA IN CONFLICT

Defeat of Challenging Nation Complete—Russia's Success in Prussia Continues

20th German Corps Cut to Pieces—Austrians Routed at Vladimir Volinsk

NISH, Serbia, Aug. 24.—Austria's defeat in the Serbian campaign has been complete, according to war office reports today. As a result of their losses on the Drina, it is stated the Austrian forces have all been withdrawn. Serbia's part in the war would be over did she not intend to take the offensive. Serbia, however, will push the campaign into Austrian territory. The Serbians captured 4500 officers and men, fifty-three field guns, eight Howitzers, eleven Caissons and large quantities of equipment and ammunition.

Still pursuing the Austrians, the Serbian forces today recaptured the towns of Losnitza and Lechnitza, which the defeated troops occupied some time ago and fortified strongly.

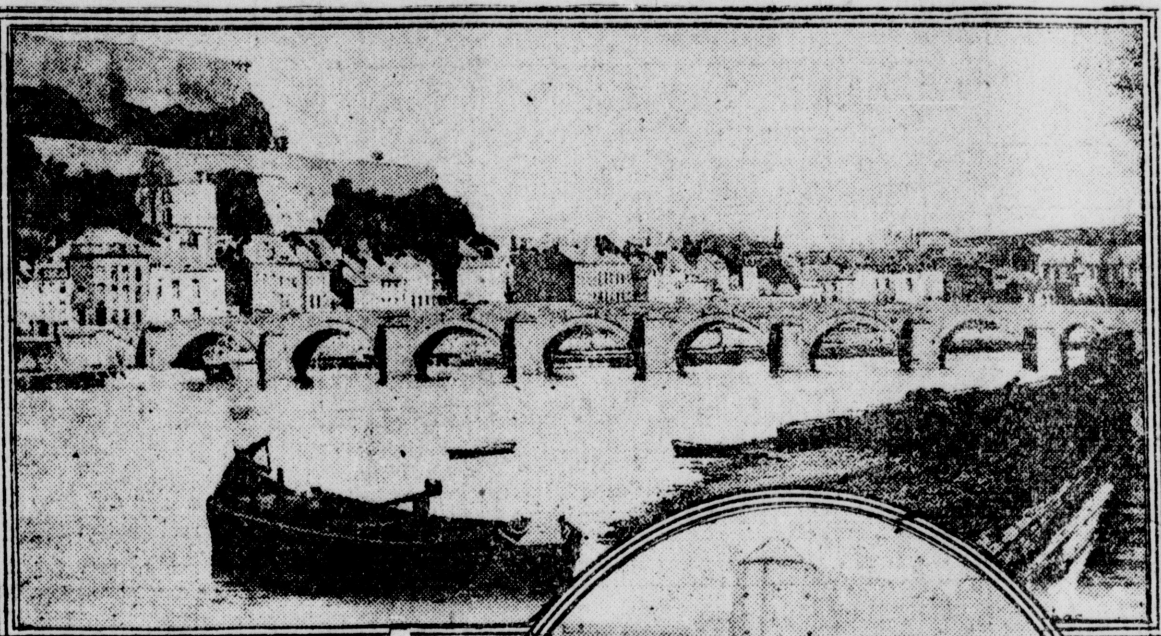

Russian Successes Continue
ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.—Uninterrupted Russian successes in East Prussia were reported to the war office today by General Rennenkamp, commander of the army of invasion. The report says: "We hold the railroads and have captured the towns of Gumbinnen, Minsterburg, Ostelburg and Johannesburg. The Twentieth German army corps was practically cut to pieces. We took several thousand prisoners."

The war office announced that Russian cavalry had routed the Austrians at Vladimir Volinsk.

WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and Tuesday, except cloudy along the coast tonight; light west winds.

BRIDGE WHICH GERMANS MUST CROSS AT NAMUR AND HIGH FORT ABOVE IT

These photographs show Namur, one of the Belgium cities around which the soldiers engaged in the European war have fought for several days. To enter the city the Germans must cross the bridge protected by a citadel high on the hill above. It is not, however, believed that this fortification is strong and it may not stand modern guns. Military experts insist the city must be taken by the Germans before they can continue their march on to Paris.

WAR BRIEFS

Idzuma Ignores U. S. Signals

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Captain Ahlstrom of the steamer Washington, is reported as passing the Japanese cruiser Idzuma, thirty miles north of Point Arena.

"The cruiser came so close we could have thrown a line aboard," said the captain. "He paid no attention to our signals. If a merchantman had acted thus, I would have lodged a complaint against her captain."

Italy on Verge of War

ROME, Aug. 24.—Fearing that war with Austria is inevitable, King Victor and his cabinet were in continuous conference today. The premier was determined to remain neutral as long as possible.

Francis Joseph Ill

LONDON, Aug. 24.—From Rome, Paris and elsewhere today came telegraphic reports that the Austrian Emperor, Francis Joseph, is seriously ill, though there is no official confirmation. It is thought likely the severe war strain is telling on the aged ruler of Austria.

JAP CONFESSES TO MURDER OF ARTIST

MONTEREY, Cal., Aug. 24.—A partial confession that he murdered Miss Helena Wood Smith, the artist whose body was found buried in the sands of Carmel, was made by George Kodani, a Japanese servant, today. "Miss Smith and myself were walking on the sand dunes," said Kodani, "when she suddenly attacked me with a knife. I did the best I could to defend myself. I guess I must have gone crazy and believe she was insane too."

Beyond this the Japanese refused to talk. He insisted that he could not remember the murder. After an autopsy the physicians brought in a verdict that Miss Smith had been murdered.

POSSIBLE AMBASSADOR DIES

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 24.—John E. Lamb, who was mentioned as President Wilson's probable selection as next ambassador to Mexico, died here today.

FOUR DEAD IN BATTLE OF MINERS AND BANDITS

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 24.—Four men are reported as dead today as the result of a battle between a gang of prospectors and Mexican bandits and negroes at Mount Sprinkles. San Diego county. Two American prospectors were killed, it is reported, and the posse which is chasing the bandits has killed two of them.

POLLS WILL BE OPEN FROM 6 A. M. TILL 7 P. M.

The polls open for tomorrow's election at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. In each sample ballot sent out by County Clerk Williams was a card upon which the voters' number on the great register, his precinct and his polling place were given.

JAPAN'S DECLARATION OF WAR LAUNCHED AGAINST GERMANY

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—The Emperor of Japan has declared war upon Germany.

This action was taken at the expiration of the time limit of Japan's ultimatum to Germany demanding the surrender of Kiao-Chau. The Japanese government has ordered the beginning of operations on land and sea.

The Imperial rescript declaring war upon Germany was issued Sunday evening. It officially inaugurates hostilities in the Far East as a result of Germany's failure to reply to the Japanese ultimatum.

The appointment was announced today of Vice Admirals Tomosaburo Kato and Sadakichi and Rear Admiral Tsuchiya as commanders, respectively, of the Japanese first, second and third naval squadrons.

Before beginning actual warfare against Kiao-Chau, it was stated today that Japan will send a note to the governor, advising him to surrender, thus avoiding unnecessary bloodshed.

All Japanese have left Kiao-Chau. The American consul remained.

Germany Protests to China
PEKIN, Aug. 24.—It was learned today that Germany has strongly protested to China, charging that the latter has aided Japan, in violation of her neutrality. China replied that Germany's war-like naval operations in the Orient were calculated to violate the principles of the Kiao-Chau convention of 1898.

England Says Japan Sincere
LONDON, Aug. 24.—British officials in positions which enable them to know state that Japan meant exactly what it said when it declared its activities against Germany would be confined strictly to the Chinese mainland. They explained that while it is recognized in London that the proposed Japanese seizure of the Kaiser's insular possessions in the Pacific may give rise to apprehension in America, the British would not be so insane at a time like the present, or for that matter at any other time, to allow Japan to embroil her with the United States. Japan, it was added, would scrupulously avoid any act which would be justly regarded with suspicion in America.

German Ambassador Von Rex has arranged to leave Yokohama for home via America on the steamship Minnesota August 27.

Japan's Intentions Obscure
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—President Wilson admitted today that Japan had failed to define its intentions beyond the announcement that it planned to take Kiao Chau from Germany. The president also admitted Japan had not assured America that the conflict will be localized to Kiao Chau.

Wilson Takes It Back
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—State department officials this afternoon said that the president's statement that so far as he knew Japan had not indicated her intention of confining her activities to the Far East was "a slip of the mind." The Japanese note expressing her intention to remain inactive outside of the Orient will soon be given to the public, it was said.

REGISTER WILL ANNOUNCE RETURNS TOMORROW NIGHT

Returns of tomorrow's election will be announced from the Register building tomorrow evening as quickly as they are received.

When the returns have been announced they will be posted in the Register's windows, corner Third and Sycamore streets.

It will be the aim of those in the Register office tomorrow evening to answer all telephone calls in regard to the results of the election but all are requested to make their conversations as short as possible. Inasmuch as the Register telephones will be exceedingly busy it is requested that persons confine their inquiries to those candidates in whom they are especially interested.

TRYING TO MAKE TROUBLE IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—President Wilson declared today that efforts to precipitate trouble between Provisional President Carranza and General Villa are being made today by persons outside of Mexico. The trouble-makers, who probably would profit by United States intervention, said the President, are using every means in their power to prevent the adjustment of differences between the Mexican leaders.

Factions to Hold Conference
EL PASO, Aug. 24.—A conference between the factions in northern Mexico with a view to preventing further strife will be held at Nogales, Sonora, before the end of the week. In addition to the trouble caused by General Maytorenas' uprising, the trouble between President Carranza and General Villa is expected to be taken up.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS AND PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRATS, HERE IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY

No one will question the fact that there are thousands of Progressive Republicans in California—that is, thousands of voters, men and women registered as Republicans, but who believe in Progressive principles, and who endorse the administration of Governor Johnson, and the work of John M. Eshleman as president of the Railroad Commission.

At the primary election these men and women will have an opportunity to express themselves, to effectuate the principles and policies for which they stand.

John M. Eshleman's name, as candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, will be found on the Republican ballot, placed there by PETITION OF SEVERAL THOUSAND REPUBLICAN VOTERS in order that all Republicans who desire to do so may vote for his nomination without having to write his name in their ballots.

Every Republican who wants California to have the best Lieutenant-Governor she ever had, the best Lieutenant-Governor of any state in the Union, a Lieutenant-Governor who would make a Governor (if called to that high office) of whom any state might be proud,—every such Republican should stamp a cross opposite the name of John M. Eshleman.

Likewise, all Progressive Democrats should vote for Mr. Eshleman by writing his name on their ballots in the blank space under the heading, "Lieutenant-Governor."

A Business Proposition

Do you ever think of the State of California as a big corporation in which you are one of the stockholders?

That is exactly what it is.

It is an organization of people for the purpose of conducting their common business—the business of keeping the peace, protecting life and property, caring for the insane, educating our boys and girls, making and enforcing laws, building and maintaining roads and harbors, promoting good citizenship and a hundred and one other functions and activities in which all citizens are interested, by which all people are affected.

The State is a corporation formed for the purpose of doing the things that must be done for the common good—for EVERYBODY'S good—but which no INDIVIDUAL is big enough to do for himself.

Do the people of California—DO YOU—think of the state government as business or politics?

When you think "politics," you think in terms of Republican, or Democrat, or Progressive, or Socialist, or Prohibitionist.

There shouldn't be so much politics in running the State. It is a business proposition, and business in these days means economy, efficiency, attention to details, and scientific management. A public business needs all these things just as much as a private business does.

Nobody has calculated or can estimate how much it costs the people of America every year to think of government as politics; but it must run into the hundreds of millions of dollars in waste of public money due to lack of efficiency in public office.

In California, in Orange County, in Santa Ana, this loss touches YOUR pocket. Think this over when you go to the polls tomorrow.

A Few Final Words

Inquiry has come to this office, from Progressives, as to Delegate to State Convention. "For whom shall we vote?" they ask.

This is a Congressional district office, and it is the Register's understanding that leading Progressives in Riverside and Imperial counties will vote for E. F. Howe, editor of the Imperial Valley Press. A better selection could not have been made, and the Register advises Orange County Progressives to write in their ballots, second column under heading "Delegate to State Convention, 39th Senatorial District," the name E. F. Howe.

F. J. O'Brien of Chico, Progressive candidate for Secretary of State has made no effort to have his name written in for the Democratic nomination at the primary. Hundreds of his Democratic friends have nevertheless assured him that they will write his name in at the polls tomorrow.

MONSTER WAR LINE GROWS IN LENGTH

Struggle Raging Over 150 Miles of Country Between Three Great World Powers

RUMORED THAT GERMANS PIERCED ALLIES' CENTER

Losses Already Said to Be Most Appalling of Any Battle in World's History

PARIS, Aug. 24.—The Franco-Anglo-German battle line was stretching out this afternoon. The war office announced the following:

"A general engagement is raging from Mons to Mosele." This meant that the battle line is one hundred and fifty miles long through Southern Belgium, Luxembourg and along the Franco-German frontier. The struggle was of the bloodiest character. That the Germans had broken the allies' center, was rumored, without verification, tonight. The war office refused to discuss the rumor.

More casualties than in any other battle in history had already been piled up today in the titanic struggle between the allies and Germans in Belgium, the war office announced today.

Losses Said to be Appalling
PARIS, Aug. 24.—The French and British were engaged in holding back the entire German army today. The fighting was desperate and the losses appalling. The war office declared the battle's outcome will probably not be known for several days. The fighting line resembled a "Z," extending from Audenarde to Brussels, then to Mons and to Namur. The heaviest action was between Brussels and Mons. If the Germans are beaten, experts declare, they are in danger of having their column divided.

The Germans in Luxembourg have also assumed the offensive, but the war office said the French in Alsace were holding their own, and the Germans were repulsed at Mulhausen. The situation in Lorraine is pronounced "satisfactory." It is thought the French abandoned the Donona and Saales passes to avoid a flanking movement.

BELGIANS MAKE PROTEST TO AMERICA

Deny German Charge and Give Counter-Charge—German Wireless Closed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—A counter protest to the German charge that the Belgians are breaking the international war code was filed with the State Department today by Belgian Minister Havenith, asking for an international investigation. He said:

"The Germans have slaughtered peaceful women and children, burned hamlets and villages and threatened the civil population with great horrors. The American consul at Antwerp denies the Belgians injured German non-combatants, and except for the sacking of a few German stores their property in Belgium is intact."

German Wireless Closed
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The German wireless station at Tuckerton, N. J., was ordered closed today by Secretary of Commerce Redfield. It was declared the station was being operated contrary to the neutrality laws.

Germans to Protest U. S. Action
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—That a formal protest will be lodged in Washington against the government's procedure here in refusing to allow the steamship Mazatlan, carrying 503 tons of coal, to leave this port until a neutrality bond had been given, was the statement of the German consul here. The Mazatlan was supposed to be carrying coal to German warships in Pacific waters.

L.A. OSTEOPATHY COLLEGES JOIN FORCES

Institution is Second School of Osteopathy in World; Dates From 1896

Los Angeles Times: Consolidation of the Pacific College of Osteopathy and the Los Angeles College of Osteopathy has finally been accomplished and at the meeting of officers of the two organizations, under the new incorporation, officials for the ensuing year were named. The incorporation of the institution perpetuates the local school as the second school of osteopathy in the world and the first to have ever given the full-fledged degree of doctor of osteopathy. The institution can date back to 1896. An initial endowment of $50,000 has been raised to carry on the work of the new school which has the solid backing of the California State Osteopathic Association. The plants and physical equipment of the two schools will not be merged into one compact whole, but will merely be under the single directorate. The forty-five active professors employed by the two schools will be continued in the new organization and all of the five buildings, with an aggregate of eighteen floors of more than 40,000 feet of floor space will be utilized. Last year 429 students were enrolled in the two institutions and considerably more are expected this year, owing partly to the fact that this is the last year in which it will be possible to enroll for a three-year course, the new state law requiring four years in the future. It is also the last year in which a student can enter a medical college with the preliminary of a high school education.

For Coroner and Public Administrator

THEO. A. WINBIGLER

Among the county officers now seeking re-election there is one to whom the voters of Santa Ana and vicinity might well give their unanimous support. This is Theo. A. Winbigler, for coroner and public administrator. Mr. Winbigler, who has been a resident of Santa Ana for nearly forty years, is now serving his first term in this office, and the large majority received by him four years ago indicates the confidence which the public have in him. During this term, in presiding over inquests as well as in the care of estates administered upon by him, he has given such satisfaction that no complaints or criticisms have been heard against him. It was rather conceded in the earlier part of the campaign that Mr. Winbigler would go in to his second term without an opponent, but late opposition from the northern part of the county developed and his many friends are rallying to his support to again express in their confidence, which he has so thoroughly sustained in the past four years. His friends bespeak for him a handsome majority in tomorrow's election.

EAST MEETS WEST

DENVER, Aug. 24.—The West now has a chance to make good its boast that it can produce players at least equal to the four which lost the international cup to the British challengers this summer. For the first time in the history of polo in this region, a tournament began at the Denver Country Club field today in which crack players from the East and West will meet. These include Joshua Crane of Boston, Foxhall Keene of Meadowbrook, the Vellies, father and son, of Kansas City, and Major Colin Rose and Walter Dupree of Coronado, Calif. Teams from Glenwood Springs, Colorado Springs, Kansas City, Denver, Sheridan, Wyo., Ft. Leavenworth, Kans., and Ft. Riley are entered. Cups worth $10,000 have been offered.

AS TO STATE CONTROLLER

Santa Ana, Cal., Aug. 24, 1914.
Editor Register:

John S. Chambers, present state controller and one of the most competent officials in the state, will have no opposition tomorrow in the Democratic and Progressive parties. His election in November is certain, for he will also be generally and generously supported by Republicans, who have confidence in him and look upon the office of state controller as practically non-partisan.

Mr. Stockwell, the young man whose name will appear on the Republican ballot, as opposing Mr. Chambers, can have no hopes of carrying the election in November, even should he receive the Republican nomination, and it would appear to be good judgment for Republicans to vote tomorrow for Mr. Chambers, thus expressing a desire to keep a good and experienced man in such an important office, rather than take chances with an inexperienced candidate, and also make it unnecessary for Mr. Chambers to leave his office between the August and November elections.

To illustrate Mr. Chambers' popularity with representative men of all parties, I would state that he was formally and officially endorsed by the County Auditors of the state, assembled in convention last February, regardless of party affiliation.

FENCES TO ELIMINATE "MASHING" AT MOVIES

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 24.—Now comes the "movie masher" and the problem of getting rid of him. "It's easy," says Mrs. S. A. Gregg, prominent Cleveland clubwoman, "we'll segregate the sexes."

To accomplish this end Mrs. Gregg already has taken the matter up with the Cleveland Mother's Congress, of which she is a member. If this body acts favorably, city officials will be asked to frame an ordinance which will put a fence in movie houses between unaccompanied women. Escorted women only would this be allowed to talk to the men in the dim light.

FLOOR OF LAKE ERIE BEING SWEEPED TODAY

CONNEAUT, O., Aug. 24.—The floor of Lake Erie is being swept with huge electrical magnets in an effort to recover the huge car ferry Marquette and Bessemer No. 2 which went down off Conneaut harbor during a terrible storm on the night of December 9, 1908. The ferry carried a cargo of coal valued at $35,000, and a crew of thirty men, all of whom were lost.

The work has been undertaken by a syndicate of business men from Windsor, Ont., who have taken a six months' option on the boat and cargo and expect to realize handsomely if she is recovered. E. L. White, an electrical engineer of St. Thomas, will direct the search from the large yacht Bertha, which has been equipped with special apparatus for the work.

MOTORBOAT CARNIVAL ON

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A week of competitions under the auspices of the National Motorboat Carnival Association, began today at Manhasset Bay. For ten years this carnival has been the motorboat racing classic of the season. The program includes as usual, competitions for the five perpetual championship trophies offered by the National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers. In addition there will be added events for all classes of boats. The five championship trophies are for the interstate championship title for speed boats 33 feet and under; national title for speed boats of 40 feet and over; international world's title for speed boats under 40 feet in length; the title for cabin launch boats from 40 to 60 feet long, and the title for motor yachts 60 feet or more in length.

HUMAN SIDE OF EUROPE'S "WAR LORD"

Despite the fierceness of the "War Lord," who is now trying to devastate Europe, he has a human side. He has many recreations besides making plans for war. This photograph shows him in one of these moments. A favorite pastime has been sailing about the Baltic and the North Sea in his magnificent steam yacht, the Hohenzollern.

PANAMA CANAL OPENING WILL CAUSE HAWAIIAN LAND BOOM

HONOLULU, Aug. 24.—Hawaiian islanders are looking forward to a tremendous boom in the territory following the opening of the Panama Canal. From the standpoint of the great landowners and their better paid dependants the prediction seems to be based on sound reasoning. In working circles, however, some dissenting voices are raised.

The Hawaiian natives, it is agreed on all hands, except perhaps in native circles, have never made satisfactory laborers. The Japanese have done tolerably well and the Chinese still better, though they have annoyed the landowners by insisting generally on doing plantation work on shares rather than for definitely fixed wages. The Chinese exclusion law and the agreement between the United States and Japan have cut off labor supplies from these two sources, however, with the result, during the past few years, that wages have been increasing and there has not been enough of it at any price.

The shortage has been partly supplied by importations, under rather thin evasions of the anti-contract labor law, from southern Europe and especially from Portugal. The expense of bringing them has been heavy, however, and on their arrival they have generally insisted on current wages. The number brought in has been comparatively so small that they have usually carried their point or approximated it.

The common view is that the opening of the canal will cheapen the trip from Europe to the islands so much that there will be a flood of immigration, with corresponding advantages to the employers. On the Pacific coast the unions have been taking steps to meet such an expected situation but here, owing to the class of workers and the completeness of the landlord's domination, unionism has never secured much foothold. Hawaiian agents already are in Europe, not contracting for workers, but pointing out to them the advantageous conditions they will find in the territory and the small cost of the voyage as soon as the canal is open.

FACTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE WAR PRESENTED IN BRIEF

(From the Los Angeles Financial News)

ON THE PACIFIC SLOPE

Keusch & Schwartz, in San Francisco, have received the following opinion from the American Secretary of State concerning the rights of neutrals. "Your letter of August 4th regarding shipments of grain from Argentina to the United States, under generally accepted international law, grain shipped in neutral vessels destined for the use of a neutral power is not subject to capture and confiscation by belligerents, but belligerent merchant vessels may be captured and confiscated by the enemy and cargoes of grain on board owned by neutrals and having a neutral destination may be diverted from their course."

California producers of petroleum have received notification from the Standard Oil company that they would be held to the maximum of their contracts. Heretofore the refiners have not been strict in enforcing this provision of the contracts and have been lenient in permitting producers to deliver more than their contracts called for. As most of the oil purchased by the Standard is under contract, this enforcement of the terms of the contract is regarded as a reasonable measure of protection against being swamped in the present state of the export business.

For the first time since the war threw the markets of the world into unrest, the San Francisco Grain exchange suspended its sessions Monday afternoon. The variance between prices asked and bid was so wide that it was practically impossible to do business.

The Western Sugar and Refining company, of San Francisco, Monday made an advance in its basic price of 85c, this being the largest amount ever added at one time in the history of the trade, and brings the basic price up to $6.30.

Interruption of foreign commerce resulting from the war situation in Europe if it is long continued will compel the big oil marketing concerns in California to curtail production and this means a hard blow to small operators.

In order to relieve conditions in the silver market the Treasury department authorizes San Francisco mint to buy 600,000 ounces of silver at 51 1/2 cents.

The Norwegian steamer Guernsey, with a cargo of 5,000 tons of barley for Falmouth, England, sailed from San Francisco Thursday.

Twenty-nine foreign vessels are idle in San Francisco harbor, 19 of which fly the British flag.

WHERE THE WAR HURTS

Consolidated Mining company at Cananea, Sonora, closes down because of unsettled condition of copper market. 1900 workers are affected.

As a result of the unprecedented financial situation created by the war, it has been decided to close a portion of the plant at the Wabana (Newfoundland) mines. The blast and open hearth furnaces at Sydney mines, Cape Breton island, have been temporarily stopped also.

The Mountain Copper company of Redding, has closed the Iron Mountain mine, which in eighteen years' continuous operation has produced ore valued at $27,000,000. Three hundred and fifty men were laid off, and the company's output is reduced 90 per cent. The Hornet mine, near Iron Mountain, will continue operations but the smelter at Martinez will be closed.

Sugar beet seed supply, practically all of which comes from Germany and Russia, has been cut off and beet growers are alarmed over the outlook. California has 600,000 acres planted to beets and the seed needed every year is 100,000 bags. Utah and Idaho will produce this year 2000 bags of seed but it will be needed there.

Practically all operations in the Czar and Holbrook shafts of the Copper Queen Mining company at Bisbee, Ariz., were suspended Thursday night when officials issued an order dismissing 400 men. This is the second reduction since the European war began, the first consisting of 500 men.

Owing to the uncertain conditions prevailing in the silver market, the Kerr Lakes Mines company and the Drummond Traction company have closed their mines. The duration of the shutdown will depend entirely upon developments in the silver market.

Two thousand men employed in the Calumet and Arizona Smelters at Douglas, Arizona, have had their wages cut, and 500 others have been laid off indefinitely. Similar reductions were made in the Bisbee mines of the two companies.

In that almost its entire output has been marketed in Germany, the Englebre-Weiss Fish Cannery at South Vallejo with a string of canneries extending to Alaska has ceased to operate.

The El Paso and Southwestern Railroad has announced a reduction of 25 per cent in its force, due to shutting down of copper mines. Four hundred employees are affected.

Customs authorities in Los Angeles estimate that the war will cost the port of Los Angeles a half million dollars per month due to cessation of imports from the nations at war.

Dried fruit packers have asked for a delay of delivery of fruit contracted for until the exact influence of the war on foreign shipments can be made.

A $2,000,000 mining dredging deal in Trinity County, Cal., has been tied up. It was financed in London but the matter is now hung up indefinitely.

Mammoth Copper company at Kennett, Cal., has shut down on development work and laid off 100 men.

Toy makers in Germany, Austria and Russia have an embargo on shipments of toys due to the war.

Copper mines in Ray, Arizona, district reduce their force to half time. 2000 men are affected.

All Anaconda mines have been placed on a five-day-a-week basis, effecting a total curtailment of about 40 per cent.

WHO PROFIT FROM THE WAR

Two hundred and fifty thousand pounds of Japanese silk were rushed across the United States this week for shipment to England. The consignment, which was shipped in bond and closely guarded by secret service men, was the second installment of a total shipment of nearly a million pounds.

Vice-President Roxburgh of the Liverpool Cotton Association has sent the following cable to President Cone of the New York Cotton Exchange. "In answer to queries from New Orleans, we have replied that we will give twenty-four hours' notice in New York and New Orleans before the opening of the market. No prospects at present."

Silver mine owners are happy over the order given by the director of the Mint to the mints at San Francisco, Denver and Philadelphia, to purchase 1,175,000 ounces of white metal at 52 cents, the San Francisco mint taking 600,000 ounces in lots of 200,000 ounces.

The war has opened a new, and perhaps permanent, market for our cotton goods in India and the Dutch East Indies. British India alone buys $200,000,000 cotton goods every year, and last year's figures showed that all but $5,000,000 of her imports came from England. The United States sold there about $1,500,000 in 1913, and Germany about the same.

British Government has agreed to guarantee Bank of England from loss on discounting of bills of Exchange of both home and foreign banks on the trade prior to August 4.

Banks in Buenos Ayres reopened on Wednesday after being closed several days.

California wine producers will reap a harvest for the demand for their wines will be greater this year than at any other period in the history of the State. This is the statement of Edgar M. Sheehan, secretary State Viticultural Commission.

Francis Draz & Co., of New York, agents for Pommery and Grendo of Rheims, France, have announced an increase in the wholesale prices of champagne. In general there is an advance of $6 a case.

Thirty-six thousand dozen eggs, the first American eggs for English markets since the war opened were shipped from New York Thursday by the American liner New York.

Lemon growers in California have felt the effect of the war in the advance in lemons due to the diversion of the Sicilian and Italian lemons from America.

California lemons score a big advance owing to the diversion of the Sicily and Italian crops from American markets to the hospitals in the war zone.

Financial interests in New York confident that in the near future a basis will be fixed for resumption of operations in International Money market.

Sugar makes tremendous advance as 85 per cent of the world's production of beet sugar is threatened by the war.

Livestock growers this week received the highest price at Kansas City for hogs since September, 1910.

DRY WHEELING CUTS JAIL AND POLICE FORCE

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 24.—Dry West Virginia has bettered Wheeling's morals, but it has temporarily slowed up Wheeling's business, according to an investigation report which is on file today. Wheeling has been dry for more than a month. Before July 1 when the saloons were out there was an average of twenty cases in police court daily. Since then two a day has been the limit.

COUNTY SCHOOL GROWTH IS SHOWN

Orange County Well Up in Front With Other Counties of State

STATEMENT GIVEN BY SCHOOL HEAD

Statistics From This Section Indicate Increased Population

New figures compiled by Superintendent Edward Hyatt for the school year just closed show remarkable increases in average daily attendance in both high schools and the elementary schools throughout the state.

The total average daily attendance in the elementary schools aggregated 319,240, while that of the high schools reached 48,312.

The tabular statement issued by the state superintendent contains the figures published by the Register about four weeks ago, showing that Orange county's common schools and high schools made a decided increase in average daily attendance in 1913-14 over 1912-13.

The average daily attendance of the elementary schools of the county for the last year was 6488, that being an increase of 586 over the previous year. The daily average attendance for the high schools of the county make a total of 1490, an increase of 236.

An inspection of the tabular statement shows that but few counties of the state made as good a showing as did Orange county.

The net gain in the average daily attendance in the grades of the state below the secondary schools was 21,356, and the net increase in the high schools was 5460. The percentage of gain in the elementary schools was 7 per cent, while that of the high schools was 12 per cent, demonstrating that the growth of the high school is one of the most striking and significant movements in education in California.

The large gain in both of these departments of the public school system means increased apportionment of funds for their improvement and maintenance during the ensuing school term of 1914-15.

These figures point to the need for many new buildings and the necessity for large numbers of free textbooks to supply the increasing numbers of children.

The big gain in the average daily attendance indicates an increased population for the state at large of at least 250,000 people.

It should be noted that the figures given are for actual average daily attendance. As a matter of fact the enrollment for the state during the year was over 400,000.

50TH BIRTHDAY OF RED CROSS SOCIETY LAST SATURDAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Saturday was the birthday of the Red Cross Society. This world-wide humanitarian institution was formed fifty years ago Saturday—August 22, 1864—by adoption of the Red Cross treaty, or the Treaty of Geneva, at the first international Red Cross convention at Geneva, Switzerland. Agreements were signed then for international neutrality in times of war of mercy bands wearing the Red Cross insignia—the red cross on a white background.

Today the Red Cross is recognized throughout the civilized world and much of the uncivilized world as the insignia of mercy, succor and neutrality.

TWO COUNTIES IMPROVE CASITAS PASS ROAD

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 24.—Ventura county will oil the Casitas Pass road and Santa Barbara county will contribute $200 for labor on that highway. This is the agreement reached by the two counties in the move to place the Casitas in good condition while the coast highway is being constructed over the Rincon.

CURRENCY ISSUE IS REDUCED BY BRAZIL

RIO JANEIRO, Aug. 24.—The government has issued a decree sanctioning the emission of paper money. As a result of action by Congress, the amount has been reduced from 300,000 to 250,000 contos (approximately $133,250,000).

FOR COUNTY RECORDER

Miss Justine Whitney Asks for Votes and Makes Strong Appeal

MISS JUSTINE WHITNEY

Miss Justine Whitney, who will come before the voters of Orange county tomorrow as a candidate for County Recorder, has made a systematic and well-planned campaign. Her arguments have been straightforward and convincing and appeal to all fair-minded citizens, both men and women.

Miss Whitney had been a deputy in the County Recorder's office for eleven years and chief deputy for a part of the time. Her work has been excellent, as the books of this very important office will show. During the absences of Recorder Peters, as he himself attests, the affairs of the office went along just as smoothly as when he was present.

Besides her efficiency, Miss Whitney has a charming personality and is always courteous and obliging. She has resided in Santa Ana for many years, where her parents were pioneers and where her aged mother still resides with her daughter.

The women of Orange county have rallied to Miss Whitney's support and if they stand by her tomorrow as they have during the campaign, tomorrow's vote will settle the question for her. The men, too, are very friendly towards Miss Whitney and to their aid and good work she owes much of her strength.

Miss Whitney will have an automobile at the disposal of her friends tomorrow, particularly those who are not able to walk to the polls.

L.A. COUNTY HAS GREATEST GAIN IN SCHOOLS

1914 Daily Attendance Also Best—Orange County's Average is Good

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—Los Angeles leads all the other 57 counties of the state with an average daily school attendance for both high schools and grammar schools of 89,066, and a gain of 9175, according to the figures for the school year closing June 30, just issued by State Superintendent Hyatt.

The eight Southern California counties show a total daily average attendance in the twelve grades of the public schools of 134,764, which is more than one-third of the state total of 367,552.

These counties show a gain of 13,260, which is nearly half of the gain for the entire state, 28,816.

The figures for the Southern California counties show average daily attendance and gain at elementary schools as follows: Imperial, 2618, gain 671; Los Angeles, 74,036, gain 7,084; Orange, 6488, gain 586; Riverside, 5,053, gain 275; San Diego, 10,448, gain 1,020; Santa Barbara, 3,260, gain 120; Ventura, 2793, gain 208; total attendance, 112,592; total gain, 10,322.

High school average daily attendance: Imperial, 442, gain 128; Los Angeles, 15,030, gain 2,091; Orange, 1,409, gain 236; Riverside, 1,026, gain 67; San Bernardino, 1,410, gain 68; San Diego, 1,336, gain 290; Santa Barbara, 564, gain 45; Ventura, 435, gain 13; total average daily attendance, 22,152; total gains, 2,938.

Santa Anans' Exciting Experiences at Berlin in War Days—U. S. Gold was Spurned—God of Luck with Them

The following highly interesting letter, written on August 12 to E. P. Stafford by Fred Rafferty while aboard the Cunard Royal Mail Steamship "Laconia" on the homeward way from war-stricken Europe, will be eagerly read. It is a narrative of the personal experiences of the Raffertys and Miss Dresser in Berlin after war was on, and also of some of their difficulties in getting home. They are now in the United States, the Register announcing their arrival in New York on August 17, the day after they arrived there. Mr. Rafferty writes:

ting pleasant rooms at a good hotel.

We immediately applied for passage home. As we expected, we found all first and second class engaged for several weeks ahead. The German lines had all been taken off, also some English vessels. The banks were closed for several days and there was great difficulty in getting travelers' checks cashed. In this respect we were again in luck, as I had a good number of checks from Thos. Cook & Son, and they would cash a limited number and would accept them for steamer tickets, but would take nothing else but British gold and Bank of England notes. I saw American gold absolutely refused. Hundreds of people were buying third class tickets and we soon saw we would have to do the same or else wait weeks for steamers that might never sail. So we engaged passage, third class, on the Cunard S. S. Laconia, sailing August 8 from Liverpool.

On Thursday we went to Liverpool and found the city more crowded than London. We obtained practically the last rooms in the largest hotel and only held these by promising that Friday night I would take a couch in the Turkish Baths.

Saturday morning we went on board. We expected poor quarters but they were much worse than we expected. Putting to sea the vessel next morning was pitching in a heavy swell. Nearly every one was more or less sick and the hallways and decks were soon vile beyond description. The small, uncomfortable cabins were poorly ventilated and by Sunday night Mrs. Rafferty and Miss Dresser were both sick.

When I first went on board I had applied for any vacant berths that might show up in first or second class, but my name and number had been taken by the purser. Sunday night Mrs. Rafferty and I went up to the purser's office and begged some sort of arrangement whereby we could get upstairs for a part of the time and were extremely fortunate to find a large stateroom splendidly situated that had not been occupied, though engaged and paid for by the Lord Charles Hope. Here again my Cook's checks came into good use and we were soon in possession of three first-class tickets and in quarters that seemed like heaven to what we had left. A few other transfers were made by crowding people together, but I saw no other checks accepted and no American money taken except at a great discount.

The ladies have recovered in the better surroundings and we are enjoying the trip as best we can. There were rumors of German war vessels on the Atlantic, so when we rounded the lower part of Ireland we turned northwest and from the cold weather we are experiencing we must be well up to Greenland. Many messages are being picked up by our vessel but none are being sent, so our location is not known by other vessels. Today some ten or a dozen inquiries have been received asking about us, but no replies are sent. By such messages we have reports of a German vessel only thirty miles south of us. It is quite exciting and possibly we may be in some danger, but I have little fear of any trouble for I cannot conceive what a German vessel would want of us unless it might be our supply of coal, as there is no port to which they could take us. The authorities evidently think there is some danger, however, for the second day out the vessel was painted black and at night there are no deck lights and every window is carefully covered.

The vessel is crowded except for the few vacancies left in the third class by the transfers and I am told some of them (the third class) are sleeping in the "lounge" and having their meals brought to the lower deck from the "saloon" kitchen.

There were several hundred nice people in the third class but there were also several hundred emigrants. There being two dining rooms on that deck, they were divided up, and that helped some, but we look back on our experience there as one we do not care to repeat. As we have the cabin of the Lord Charles Hope we feel that we have been elevated from the "steerage" to the "peerage" and it is a very agreeable sensation.

Ordinarily the trunks go right through to London and are examined there, but when we reached Holland every trunk was taken out and thoroughly examined by the Germans to see that no arms or ammunition were going out. Our hand baggage was examined and we had to show our passports, for they were watching to prevent Germans from leaving the country.

All along the route we were joined by other refugees. Our train was a long one but every compartment was full and the corridors were filled with people sitting on their luggage or on the floor, dejected and weary, trying to somehow get a wink of sleep. Probably two-thirds of them were American tourists.

When the luggage was overhauled at the German border about 3 o'clock in the morning I discovered our trunk was not on the train, but we again had the good luck to find it a day or two later in the station at Folkestone. Our trip from Flushing to Folkestone was very quiet and we managed to get breakfast and a little sleep, and arrived in London without further mishap.

Everything in London was full as some 20,000 tourists had flocked to the city. Again we were lucky in get-

CROWD ATTENDING GARDEN GROVE CELEBRATION PUT AT 5000 IN ESTIMATES

Garden Grove has every reason to be well pleased with its prosperity celebration, held last Saturday. The people had estimated that they would be doing well if the crowd numbered 3000. There were fully 5000 people in attendance. That estimate is made by Garden Grove people who made a special point of looking up the matter. At the barbecue counter 3500 plates were passed out, and there were hundreds of people present who did not attend the celebration until after the noon hour.

Everything went off smoothly. The candidates made good use of their opportunities. Many people went to the celebration hoping to get acquainted with the men running for office. Much interest was manifested in the introduction of the various candidates.

The candidates were all called to the platform, where Mr. Emerson was in charge. The speeches were limited to two minutes.

The Japanese occupied a prominent part in the affairs of the day. Their daylight fireworks brought forth lots of applause, and their exhibition of wrestling was of much interest.

In the afternoon a rattling good game of baseball was played between Orange and Garden Grove. The Orange boys won the event by a score of 2 to 1. Every run was fought for. The playing was exceptionally good, like the rest of the celebration, classy and satisfying.

The visitors around Garden Grove a splendid host. The newly paved streets, the walnut packing house and the chile warehouse, both now under course of construction, were pointed out by the home people to those who had come to enjoy with Garden Grove a day of festivities.

FOOD PRICES AND THE WAR

The speculator is abroad in the land, seeking how he may add to his dollars out of the needs of our people. But not all of the many advances recorded in food products are due to him. Our own people aggravate the trouble by bidding against each other for food. Provision men say that people that ordinarily buy a bag of flour are laying in a barrel, and those who usually take a few pounds of sugar now take a 100-pound bag. All this puts money in the wholesaler's pocket.

Competition among retail tradesmen is sharp. Almost any merchant would rather have the good will of his community than charge his regular customers a higher price for goods he had in stock. But these are times when tradesmen do not stock up in advance of needs as they used to. Most of them are caught short on staple lines like flour and sugar.

Wholesalers who are making money by selling off stock goods at advanced prices should realize that they defy public sentiment. Public feeling today enforces the distinction between a fair and an unfair price.

A fair price is what will give a seller an equitable return on his money. The man who insists on more in an emergency may gobble a few extra dollars, but he loses the chance to acquire valuable friends.

Many of the advances in food products are artificial. Few captures of merchant ships are reported. In sending cargoes across the water there are few chances of loss, even under present conditions. The sea is likely soon to be cleared of hostile prowlers. Insurance of marine risks is now absurdly high. One manufacturer reports that he had to pay forty per cent to get goods transported to Japan, a rate far above any chances of seizure. This matter of war insurance will soon be adjusted. Soon commerce will be resumed, and people who are bidding up prices may regret their speculative fervor.

GETTING NEW INDUSTRIES

There is intense competition between cities and towns to secure new industries. Whereas formerly many large towns had no boards of trade, now these organizations are common even in small villages. Their first and foremost activity is the effort to land new manufacturing propositions.

No sooner does a corporation express a desire for a new location, than it is deluged with all sorts of gift propositions, free rents, remission of taxes, etc. Some of the concerns looking for such favors are mere drifters and beats who stay in a place a year or two and then move on.

Many boards of trade compare distant states to land new enterprises and then overlook chances in their own city. There are probably enterprising young fellows in our own town who would be perfectly capable of conducting a profitable manufacturing enterprise if they had capital. At the same time our business men are sending money away because they know of no chances to invest favorably at home. This capital and this enterprise should be brought together. The plant fathered by home enterprise and capital is most likely to be permanent.

Getting new factories is mostly a case of persistent search. Ninety-nine tips may prove hopeless, but the hundredth may be genuine. If all possible chances are investigated, some day there will come a real opportunity that can be landed.

This kind of work calls principally for persistent letter writing. Every report of a business seeking a new home should be followed up, and then a good deal of investigation may be required. But this work can be done largely by a stenographer, and postage stamps are not costly. The securing of a new industry brings such positive results of prosperity, that this effort ought to be persistently carried on here and the small expense of it should be easily met.

Gen. Joffre, Commander of the French Army

There is considerable question if General Joffre has the ability or the experience to lead the French forces to success. He is now in the field, in Alsace, the last reports have it. He has not seen real fighting before and heretofore has been in command of a small section of the French army. His efforts in the field to date, however, according to Paris information, have been successful.

Reports have come into Progressive state headquarters from various parts of the state that many Republicans and Democrats will give Governor Johnson a complimentary vote by writing his name on their ballots, although he is a candidate only on the Progressive ticket. A great many Democrats are planning to write in the name of John M. Eshleman for lieutenant governor.

DRAMA ABROAD AND AT HOME

By Beau Rialto

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—With the 1914 season about to begin, a last desperate effort by burlesque managers to invade Broadway is being made. The burlesque army of invasion is fighting every bit as valiantly as did those German legions to get a foothold in Belgium. The "legit" managers are fighting just as desperately as did those Belgian defenders at Liege to keep the burlesques off the Gay White Way. It looks like the burlesques will win.

It has been persistently reported for weeks that the Progressive Burlesque Wheel will get the New York Theater. It is known the burlesque folks made a good offer to William Morris for his lease on that show house. Morris held a lease from the Klaw and Erlanger people and had intended putting on a series of spectacular dollar musical productions. He had even started the organization of a company on a large scale. It is Believed that the gloomy outlook for the coming season, due to fears that the European war may cut down theater attendance, may influence Morris to give up his lease to the Progressive Burlesque Wheel.

Burlesque managers have long dreamed of establishing on Broadway. Their dreams of a port on Broadway have been as dear to them as have been the dreams of little Serbia for a seaport on the Adriatic Sea. As it looks at present, writing both the burlesque managers and Serbia are due to have their dreams come true. The nearest burlesques have ever got to Broadway was in the location of the Columbia Theater on Seventh avenue just above Forty-seventh street where Broadway slants across those streets. To all intents the Columbia is virtually in Longacre Square.

Sophie Tucker has been making quite a hit singing "Who Paid the Rent for Mrs. Rip Van Winkle?" In song, she asked that question of the thousands who made up the audiences. Now she's wondering how she will pay her own rent. Thereby hangs the yarn.

As is well known, there is a rigid rule at all Keith theaters that no song or joke in any way suggestive shall be delivered on any Keith stage. The song asking the question about Mrs. Rip's rent was placed on the ban by E. F. Albee, who does the censoring for the Keith theaters here.

Miss Tucker had just signed a nice, little contract for five or six weeks at the Palace. She swears she didn't know the Rip Van Winkle song had been barred, so when she opened at the Palace a few weeks ago she sang it. The next day A. Paul Keith, who was in Boston, heard of it. He sent an order forbidding Miss Tucker to sing it again, and ordered also that her time be curtailed.

The European war and its effects on Broadway continue to be the chief subjects of conversation. Besides hitting theaterdom in ways already mentioned, it was realized this week that it will mean extra actors and actresses and the same number of jobs. Elsie Janis had planned another year abroad. Her successes in London got her a good contract in Paris for this winter. She had laid all plans to open shortly. The war has frightened her off, and she cancelled the contract. It is her plan now to tour in vaudeville this winter.

Enjoyable Jack Norworth and Cross and Josephine are three others whose European engagements this coming winter have been cancelled owing to the war. Norworth and Cross and Josephine will take a whirl about the "Big Time."

If Denmark is drawn into the European war, New York probably will lose its fattest, best known, and most lurid-minded press agent. He is A. Toxen Worm, general press representative for the Shuberts. Worm is a citizen of Denmark. He has just returned from a visit at his old home in Copenhagen, where, it is said, the first reservists would be ordered out in case Denmark cannot keep out of the fracas. Worm is eligible for military service. If he has to serve and the Danish military authorities are wise, they will send A. Toxen in advance of the army to spread propaganda to frighten enemies from engaging the Danes.

The Grand Opera season is becoming daily more precarious. One of two things is certain. Either there will be no Grand Opera in the United States this winter, or it will be of vastly inferior grade to what it has heretofore been. The same conditions are true for Boston and New York. Metropolitan opera house managers have heard nothing from their artists, conductors or members since July 23. Nearly all chorus men at the Metropolitan, Boston and Chicago opera houses are French, German and Italian reservists.

Harvard makes record trip from Frisco to L. A. Los Angeles Times: With only the trailing streamer of white foam in her wake, showing her progress, so smoothly did she cut the waves, the big steamer Harvard of the Pacific Navigation Company yesterday added more laurels to her wreath by making the trip from San Francisco to Los Angeles harbor in a little less than seventeen hours.

The ocean was as smooth as glass from the time the Harvard left the Golden Gate until she rounded the breakwater here, and while the time made on the last trip was lowered on one other occasion by several minutes, this trip is remarkable, owing to the fact that no attempt was made to go after any sort of a record, the big steamer knocking an hour from the usual schedule time without an effort.

Yesterday's trip was the first made by the Harvard under the command of Capt. C. W. White and it was for his benefit that Chief Engineer J. M. Spencer gave the word down the line that the new captain was to be shown how speedy his new steamer really is.

Early Banking in United States

(From the Los Angeles Financial News)

In a brochure issued by Wm. P. Bonbright & Company, Inc., of New York, is a history of early banking in the United States from which the following is taken.

The First Bank of the United States was incorporated by Act of Congress, February 25, 1791, according to ideas formulated chiefly by Alexander Hamilton. It was part of a plan to strengthen the new Federal Government and to assist in placing the disordered currency system on a substantial basis. The bank was chartered for twenty years with provision that no other bank should receive a charter from Congress during that period. The State banks, however, were not restrained by the enactment. The capital was $10,000,000 in shares of $100 par value. Twenty per cent was subscribed by the Federal Government under the charter terms to be paid in ten equal annual installments with 6 per cent interest, upon the condition that the Bank would lend the Government a similar amount. This arrangement made the payment for stock in practically a form of note. Other subscriptions were payable at once in two installments; one quarter cash and two-thirds in three quarters in United States Government securities. The stock was oversubscribed by four thousand shares, $1,600,000, within two hours.

The management was vested in twenty-five directors—citizens of the United States, elected by the stockholders. The number of votes allowed individual shareholders per share diminished on a proportionate scale with number of shares owned and no holder was allowed to cast more than thirty votes. Foreign shareholders were not allowed to vote by proxy, which practically annulled their privilege. The first president was Thomas Willing of Philadelphia. The headquarters of the bank were in Philadelphia and branches were ultimately established in New York, Boston, Baltimore, Washington, Norfolk, Charleston, Savannah and New Orleans. The bank dealt in bills of exchange and bullion, the interest on loans and discounts was limited to 6 per cent. Loans to the United States Government, however, were limited to $100,000 except by authority of law and to any one state $50,000. Loans on real estate were permitted, but ownership of real estate prohibited except for necessary premises or when acquired in satisfaction of mortgages. Transactions in bonds and stock were not allowed except sale of those acquired at organization. No limitation was placed on deposits. Note issues together with all debts other than deposits were limited to the amount of capital stock. The notes were redeemable in coin on demand and receivable for dues to the Government as long as so redeemed.

The services of the bank to the government were described by Secretary of the Treasury Gallatin as: Safe-keeping and transmission of public moneys; collection of revenue and loans. The government was very delinquent in repaying loans to the bank both for the stock subscription and other purposes. Financial exigencies finally induced the sale of its stock, the best being sold in 1802. The total profit of the government on its bank shares after dividends of about 8 3/8 per cent annually was nearly 57 per cent in eleven years. The bank achieved much success as a regulator of the country's currency and a balance wheel for its financial system. Dividends up to 1809 averaged over 8 per cent and a report of January, 1811, showed:

Loans and discounts $14,578,294
Specie 5,069,567
U. S. 6 per cent Stock 2,750,000
Circulating notes 5,087,125
Individual deposits 5,900,423
United States deposits 1,929,999
Total Resources 24,183,046
Congress refused to renew the charter which expired in 1811 and the assets were taken over by Stephen Girard of Philadelphia, the stockholders receiving about $134 per share or 108 1/2 per cent in liquidation.

Second United States Bank

The second bank of the United States was created by act of Congress in April, 1816, and commenced business in January, 1817. The national finances and the currency became deranged following the retirement by limitation of the first bank and were further disturbed by the second war with England. In 1814 the state banks suspended specie payments. The second bank was organized to correct these conditions. In most respects the charter of the second bank was like that of the first and much of the philosophy retained. The capital was $35,000,000; the shares $100, and one-fifth of the total subscribed by the government. The Federal subscription was by stock note and not fully paid until 1831. Public subscriptions were payable at once or in three equal semi-annual installments, the first in specie and the balance in specie or government bonds. The management was vested in twenty-five directors, five of whom represented the government's stock and were chosen by the president. The others were chosen by the general stockholders and as with the first bank, small holdings had a proportionately greater vote.

The charter was for twenty years, the central office in Philadelphia and eighteen branches were established throughout the country. The charter required a branch in any state where 2,000 shares of stock were held and provided that no other bank should be created by Congress except in the District of Columbia. The bank became fiscal agent for the government without compensation, and the depository of the public funds. No loans to the Government were required, but a bonus of three $500,000 payments was stipulated, the first at the end of the second year, the others at the end of the third and fourth years. Sales of government bonds were limited to $2,000,000 per annum. The general functions were similar to those of the earlier bank and the restrictions as to real estate holdings and 6 per cent on loans and discounts were the same.

The total of notes and other debts of the bank, except deposits, were limited to the amount of the capital subject to increase by authority of Congress. The notes were receivable in all payments to the United States; the minimum denomination was $5. Notes and all other obligations of the bank were payable on demand in specie subject to a forfeit of 12 per cent. During the first few years the bank was unsuccessful. The proportion of specie required on the second and third installments of the stock subscription was not paid when due and inadequately secured loans were contracted. The Baltimore branch was practically wrecked with a loss of $1,571,221. The methods for re-establishing specie payments by state banks did not accomplish their purpose, and in April, 1819, the specie holdings of the Central Bank at Philadelphia had fallen to $126,745 despite large and costly imports from Europe.

Bank Became Prosperous
The efforts of the bank to regulate the currency aroused much antagonism among the state banks and the Bank of the United States was subjected to attacks by legal taxation and legislative means in several states. These were generally overthrown in the courts, notably a suit on the constitutionality of the institution. These conditions led to a change of administration, and the election of Langdon Cheeves, a member of Congress, as president of the bank in 1819. He enforced drastic changes in policy, the bank became prosperous and financial conditions throughout the country improved greatly.

Nicholas Biddle succeeded Cheeves as head of the bank in 1823. The country entered a great constructive period and the bank is credited with materially facilitating business, promoting sound methods and, according to Congressional reports, furnishing "a currency as safe as silver" and "more convenient," also of practically establishing transactions in domestic bills of the bank held $23,052,972 in 1832 against $2,378,980 in 1824 and none in 1819.

President Jackson's first annual message in 1829 attacked the Bank of the United States as to constitutionality and expediency. A bill to renew the charter passed Congress in 1832 but was vetoed by the President. The renewal of the charter became a leading issue of the national election in 1832, and President Jackson's re-election was followed by further serious breaches between the bank and the Government. One of these was fought in the Supreme Court which decided against the bank. The President made a determined and finally successful effort to withdraw the public moneys from the bank.

Chartered by Pennsylvania
In 1836 the Bank of the United States obtained a Pennsylvania State thirty-year charter, and after March of that year operated as a state bank. It agreed to pay the state a bonus of $2,000,000, and $100,000 annually for thirty years as well as subscribe to the stock of various transportation routes. The Government's stock was liquidated in four annual installments at 115.58 and new stock sold to replace it. The character of the business changed and the bank made heavy losses. It suspended in common with other banks of the country during the crisis of 1837 and again in 1838 and 1841, going into liquidation that year. The shareholders lost in full but the other creditors were paid. The extent of the business of the second Bank of the United States at various stages is indicated by the following figures:

FAREWELL PARTY

"Moving Picture" Affair Greatly Surprised Mr. Mathewson on Saturday Night

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Stewart opened their cozy home on South Broadway Friday evening to the young people of the Reformed Presbyterian church. The gathering was in the nature of a farewell surprise in honor of J. C. Matthews before his departure for Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, where he expects to enter Geneva College. By a previous arrangement, the honored guest was to spend the evening at the Stewart home to assist in developing pictures. Upon arriving there Mr. Matthews was very much embarrassed to find the house full of waiting friends. Upon being told that the pictures which he would have to deal with for the evening were moving pictures, the honoree soon recovered himself, and all present joined in an evening of frolic.

After refreshments of ice cream and cake, Rev. George Greer took the floor and on behalf of the young people presented Mr. Matthews with a solid silver shaving service. This promising young man will be greatly missed as president of the Christian Endeavor Society and in church life in general. His friends are glad, however, to send such a sterling type of manhood to one of the higher institutions of education, and predict for him a life of great usefulness.

Sycamore Rebekahs
Sycamore Rebekahs had an enjoyable meeting Saturday night, initiating two new members. A large number of visitors were present from lodges from in and out of the city.

Following the business session, delicious ice cream and cake were served in the banquet hall, where pink amaryllis and ferns were used in decorations.

Illinois State Picnic
Next Saturday has been designated in Southern California as Illinois Day and all of the former residents of that state are invited and requested to participate in the annual summer picnic, which this year will be held in Eastlake Park. The September picnic, which has been featured each year, will be passed up for the event of the coming Saturday. Music, oratory, picnic luncheons and some old-fashioned sporting events are on the program.

WOMEN'S FADS AND FANCIES

By Margaret Mason

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—At this time of the year when mere man is shaking the mothballs out of his dress coat, lovely woman, a coat to be outdone orders home a coat-dress from the little French dressmakers. These newest of the two creations are successors of the long Russian tunic frocks that were literally killed by kindness. When the long tunic was first launched on the sea of style it was received with such a wave of popularity that commonness soon swamped it and naturally it is no longer tolerated by the fashionably elect. Hence the evolution of the frock coat which is simply a garment whose waist continues in daring lines to the calf in simulation of a veritable long coat over a skirt.

With the exception of the long unbroken line from shoulder to finish, the effect is practically the same as that of the long Russian tunic. These coat dresses are particularly smart for early fall wear of blue serge or in satin, both materials lavishly braided in wide and narrow widths of black silk sateen braid used in combination. Woman's clothes are certainly due for a large share of upbraiding this autumn but so long as they are to be down braided and braided all around as well this will no doubt take the course off.

Since bullets at the front are all the rage in France it seems only apropos that bullet buttons should be all the rage at the front of the feminine frocks on this side of the water. These buttons are equally chic in metal or satin and cloth covered. The flaring collars of white organdie and batiste so omnipresent on all and every sort of frock are now replete with pleats and even a new square flat collar of sheer lace and organdie that falls down the back like a sailor collar comes pleated in divers tiny folds.

With practically all the new models for fall and winter showing the straight lines of the semi-fitted basque, the coat frock and the chemise gown, it promises to be a hard winter indeed for any but the sveltest of the sveltest. A fat or even a plump woman has but the choice of two evils, either to don one of these loose lined styles which gives her immediately all the dainty versimilitude of a vat or a hoghead or to stick to her last year's modes and be dubbed passive, unless some gallant designer leaps into the breach and turns out a life and figure saving model for the portly.

A freak fashion that savors strongly of the decorative instinct of a Hotentot chief is the use of a fringe of shiny long black monkey fur around the bottom of a deep circle on an evening frock and a like fringe outlining the edge of a short coat to a white serge or gabardine suit.

Fortunately this outburst of monkey fur is not apt to be aped by anyone possessing a shred of either artistic or ordinary good taste. The combination of the sleek black fur with the white however shows the penchant for black and white to be absolutely undiminished and vying with the black satin basque and coat dresses of all white tulle and now offered similar silken modes made up in tiny black and white check silk.

Through this intermittent craze for checks is temporarily checked from time to time it never fails to break out anew at least once a season. Besides the black and white checked silk frocks, heavy capes of shepherd plaid are also frequently glimpsed worn half slipping off of smart shoulders.

There is just one word of grace to say about the passing of the Russian tunic.

A respite may be granted its too abrupt passing provided it is willing to get beneath the yoke. In other words if you allow your tunic to drop from a fitted yoke around the hips instead of its former falling full or pleated from the waist line you may still wear it with an up-to-date conscience.

NEWSY NEWS FROM NEW YORK

By Carlton Ten Eyck

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—At last it has arrived! New York has tired of the professional "hoofers"—the expert cabaret dancer who heretofore has been employed to entertain the cafe guests at all the big hotels in and around the city. Many of the big hostesses have already read done away with the professional dancer and scores of others are fast getting into line.

"I'll tell you what I think is the cause of it," said a manager of one of New York's biggest cafes. "The people are growing tired of seeing someone else dance. They want to dance themselves. They've found that with a little practice they can dance almost as well as the average professional who is employed in cafes and that being the case, they soon grew tired watching the professional."

"I don't believe the war or hot weather or anything else except what I said is to blame for the falling off in attendance at cafes where professional entertainers are employed."

The complaint of the public tiring of professional dancers is a general one. Practically every cafe manager in the city agrees that New York has been danced to death. One told of the experience of a man who opened a high-class roadhouse just outside the city. He advertised that Mr. So-and-So and Miss So-and-So, well known professional cabaret dancers, would appear. Price for the dinner was to be $2. He kept the dancers just four days. In that time they had danced to about $10. Discouraged, the proprietor let the dancers go and reduced the price of the dinner to $1. He also announced that the only dancing would be done by the guests. The result was that his roadhouse was jammed.

One steamship company running excursions out of New York has adopted a novel ruse to attract business to that line. On its biggest boat—a high-class one furnished with a magnificent ball-room—a beautiful young woman, her eyes concealed by a black mask, appears every evening and dances with all the lonely young men aboard. The number of lonely young men aboard that ship quickly grew to unheard of proportions. One would think the ship was bound to a gold region to judge by the number of young men flocking to the pier every evening to board it. It wasn't long until the couples aboard that boat became a rare thing. The young men, it seemed, preferred to be alone when they made that trip.

All efforts to discover the identity of the fair one failed. Many tried to peep behind the mask and their efforts were rewarded with a slap. This young dancer received scores of offers of company to her home after the evening's excursion. But the offers were all met with a polite but firm refusal. The young woman is an exceptionally clever dancer. And she is always willing to dance with any man who asks her. It is very seldom that she misses a dance, unless she hides out.

War, even the greatest in the history of the world, couldn't keep King Baseball off the front pages of the newspapers very long. During the first few days of the war, baseball was completely forgotten. War news covered the first pages. After a few days when the war news was scarce, the censors getting in their work, baseball and race results began to creep back in the front pages. For a few days their notice was small but gradually the notices grew larger until soon they were filling their customary space.

One of the few humorous aspects of the great European war, seen here, was the mad rush of foreigners to become Americans. Immediately following the first declaration of war in the gigantic struggle the Bureau of Naturalization here was fairly swamped with applications. And they have been every day since.

SWEET POTATO GROWERS FORM
ORGANIZATION

Association to Handle and Market Crop Raised Near Anaheim

Growers of sweet potatoes in the vicinity of Anaheim and Garden Grove have organized what they have named the Sweet Potato Growers' Association of Southern California, and it is reported that nearly all of the growers of the saccharine spud in this county are in the organization.

Articles of incorporation were filed this morning by Attorney R. Y. Williams for the growers. The directors are Ed Cook and John Hile of Anaheim, A. Addington, B. F. Crutchfield and William Lehenhardt, all of Garden Grove.

The articles state that the association is formed for the "receiving, curing, packing and marketing" of the sweet potatoes grown by the members of the association. Anaheim is named as the principal place of business. The voting power, property rights and interest of all members are equal. IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT
QUAIL HUNT AN EXPENSIVE
ONE

Killing Game Out of Season
Cost $50, Leaving
Fire $50

This morning John C. Isbell and Herbert R. Grove, both of Tustin, were arrested on two complaints, one sworn to by Fire Warden Ed Adkinson of Trabuco, charging them with killing quail out of season and one sworn to by Forest Ranger J. B. Stephenson of El Toro, charging them with leaving a camp without first having extinguished their camp fire. Their fines totaled $100.

Adkinson was the witness in the two cases. As stated by him, he suspected that quail hunting had been occurring near the Trabuco school house. Sunday morning he went to a camp there and found live coals. He put out the fire, and trailed the hunters. He found the two men, and when he came into view he thought he saw one of them empty his coat. Later he went to the place and found six quail, one of them little larger than a canary, and one dove.

Under the law the least fine for leaving a fire is $50. The charge against Isbell on that score was taken up, he pleading guilty, while the one against Grove was dismissed. Justice Cox fixed a fine of $25 for each man in the quail shooting case.

Adkinson said that he and others of the men living in the Trabuco are keeping a close lookout for game hunting out of season.

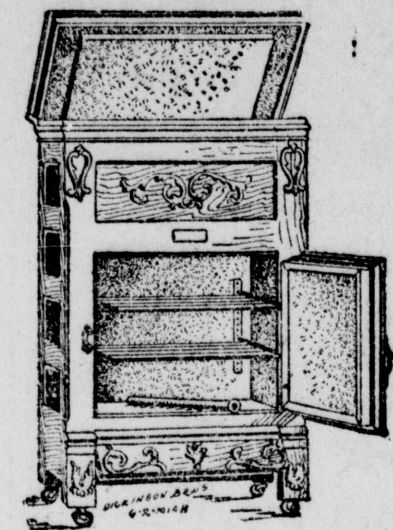

Man Shot Accused
Chon Banda, the Garden Grove Mexican who was shot by W. L. Mayhew, a rancher, has been charged with stealing a watermelon from Mayhew's patch. Banda was in the patch and had picked a melon when Mayhew, who was hiding nearby, raised up and fired a load of No. 6 shot into him. Banda is recovering rapidly from the wounds.

The motor cop was on roads near Anaheim last night and picked up fourteen bicyclists and drivers of buggies, none of whom had lights on his vehicle. As yet but few people are regarding the new county traffic ordinance that requires all vehicles, except baby-buggies, to have a white light showing to the front and

AURORA, ILL., MEN-
ACED 15,000 LIVES

AURORA, Ill., Aug. 24.—Explosions accompanying a $200,000 fire that yesterday completely destroyed the factory of the William F. Jobbins Chemical Company, threatened the lives of 15,000 people residing in the vicinity of the plant. Great steel tanks filled with nitroglycerine exploded and parts were blown in every direction over the city. One tank was blown across the Fox River and landed on top of the city waterworks.

The several men who were at work in the factory at the time of the accident, escaped uninjured. Flames from the burning chemicals shot 100 feet into the air.

THE CITY POLICE

WOMAN ARRESTED FOR A DISTURBANCE

On the 11 o'clock stage there arrived last night from the beach a woman who was booked at the county jail as Mary Doe. She was charged with disturbing the peace. She displayed much expertise in the use of profane language. She became so boisterous when Officers Ryan and Vestal made the arrest that she awoke City Recorder Wilson, who lives in the apartments over the Rowley Drug Company's store, corner Fourth and Main. Others will also be able to testify that "Mary Doe's" demeanor when the officers sought to take her to jail was far from ladylike.

MENACED OBSERVATORY

PASADENA, Aug. 24.—The partially constructed dome for the huge 100-inch telescope at the Carnegie Observatory on Mt. Wilson was menaced by a brush fire early yesterday morning. The fire was fought for an hour by men and women before it was extinguished. The blaze was started by a blasting fuse thrown into a small canyon. The astronomers at the observatory and the people at the hotel seized shovels, boards or whatever they could and rushed to the place. Mrs. W. E. Corey, wife of the manager of the hotel, and several other women helped check the spreading flames.

This season's production was the largest in number of boxes in the history of the district.

OVER-SEA CARNIVAL ENDED AT VENICE

VENICE, Aug. 24.—The "Over-Sea Carnival," which opened here five days ago, closed last night amid the burning of much fire and the bursting of rockets. The carnival received liberal patronage since opening, but yesterday was the banner day. With 50,000 people along the ocean front it had a good crowd to draw from and it attracted many of them. With a high tide at noon, the number of bathers was far in excess of that of any previous day this season.

ARE WOMEN NATURALLY DESPONDENT?

A prominent writer so claims. Women are constituted with a delicate organism and in nine cases out of ten mental depression may be attributed to an abnormal condition of the system which expresses itself in nervousness, sleeplessness, backache, headaches, causing constant misery and as a result despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, is the one great remedy for this condition. It goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes despondency.—Advertisement.

FIRST EFFECT OF WAR CLOUD—RUN ON BERLIN SAVINGS BANK

This was the first effect Berlin felt of the war cloud which hung over Europe just before the Kaiser broke with Russia. It is a picture taken at the time Austria's assault on Serbia indicated the whole of Europe would be involved in a war. It was taken in front of the City Savings Bank, one of the larger institutions of Berlin, and is the first war photograph to reach the United States. Runs on other banks have followed, not only in Germany but over Europe, till many of the bankers are in a dangerous condition.

DREADNAUGHT DEDICATED TODAY

Argentine Sends 1000 Men to Man Monster Warship
Rivadavia

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—With elaborate ceremonies, the great super-dreadnaught Rivadavia was today formally turned over to the Argentine government in Boston harbor. A thousand men, brought here by transport from the South American republic were formally assigned to their posts to man this greatest battleship afloat. The huge floating fort will dock at the Charlestown navy yard for final touching up, the United States navy department having offered this courtesy to her sister republic. Ambassador Naon, representative of Argentina at Washington, was to come to lead in dedicating the dreadnaught. The Rivadavia has no superior on the seas, in armament, speed, horsepower, tonnage or armor. During her speed trials her monster engines forced her great bulk at a speed of 22.56 knots an hour. When the war cloud hovered over Europe and before the rattle of musketry and boom of big guns began, several European nations offered a handsome price for the Rivadavia, but all were turned down.

The Moreno, sister ship of the Rivadavia, is now building at New York where she will be launched probably in September.

THE CITY POLICE WOMAN ARRESTED FOR A DISTURBANCE

Los Angeles Examiner: Women arrested in Los Angeles in the future will have a novel protection, in a women's private police court, free from the gaze of spectators, according to Police Judge Thomas P. White, after a consultation with Chief of Police Sebastian. The new court will be inaugurated September 1.

"Women prisoners are not hardened criminals. Many of them come to the bar of justice with tears in their eyes and a genuine blush of shame on their cheeks. They must be protected from police court loafers who only laugh at their misery," said Judge White.

"This is an innovation, a novelty west of New York city, but Los Angeles leads in scores of municipal details, and it should not lag in the modern administration of justice."

Chief Sebastian has cheerfully agreed to detail a policeman to accompany each woman into this court and attend her while she is being arraigned. Judges Williams and Chesbro have concurred in the plan and my own police court week will see the innovation inaugurated.

Guide to Reformation
"The real object is to give women such protection that they will be guided naturally to reformation. Day after day there come to police court dozens of men of middle age, who sit and stare at every prisoner on trial. When a man is up, charged with hitting another man on the nose, they display no interest. When a woman is brought in, charged with petty larceny, disturbing the peace of a place, or being in a place of ill-repute, their eyes open wider, they lean forward, so as not to miss a word, and then bring out a pencil and on the back of an envelope write down the woman's name and address."

"These men made the police court a place where they gather the material for future blackmail, and I fear even white slavers are interested in the data they obtain. I have driven scores of such men out of court in spite of the fact that the court is a public place, because I knew they had the hearts of vultures. Such men have pursued women who were arrested for some trifling offense, found out their records and then threatened to expose them to their relatives or employers unless they were paid for silence."

Behind Locked Doors
"In the Women's Court the doors will be locked to spectators. The court officers, witnesses and attorneys will be present, and only such others as the person on trial requests shall be admitted into the room. The court will meet at 1 o'clock, an hour earlier than the regular open session, and cases will be set for trial where no plea of guilty is entered for 1 o'clock during the trial week."

"If this innovation is successful, we are sure it will be, it will pave the way for a true Woman's Court, with a woman judge sitting on the bench, questioning the woman on trial and pronouncing sentence. There is ample room for this, because the man judge realizes that a woman can get closer to a woman's heart, ask more direct questions and be more truly in sympathy than can he."

REGIMENT OF IRISH COAST GUARDS FIRST TO ARRIVE TO FIGHT FOR GREAT BRITAIN

Before Great Britain declared war Irish soldiers had reached London ready to fight. A regiment of Irish Coast Guards was landed at Chatham dockyard and they went on duty at once. They will do the same work in England they had done in Ireland. This photograph is to some extent bears out the prediction of John E. Redmond that all Irishmen, Orangemen and Catholics would quit their own fighting to back up Britain in the crisis.

PLAN OF SHORT COURSES IS TO TEACH OUR FARMERS HOW TO MAKE MORE MONEY

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Aug. 24.—To help the practical farmer to raise more to the acre and to make more money is the object of the "Farmers' Short Courses" which the University of California has now announced for this fall.

Farmers and their wives from all over California will gather at the University Farm at Davis from October 5 to November 14. There will be separate shore courses in agriculture, in dairy manufactures, in horticulture, and in poultry husbandry.

If a dairyman can increase his dairy production 5 per cent, if a farmer can increase his yield of barley two bushels an acre, if a rancher can save just one horse by what he learns of veterinary practice, then, says the university, he will be amply repaid for the time and expense of his six-weeks' short course at the University Farm.

Here are some of the things that will be taught:

To judge livestock.
To immunize hogs, so that swine may be protected against hog cholera, which yearly causes California hundreds of thousands of dollars of unnecessary loss.

To test milk, so that the "boarder" cows which produce less value in butter fat than the value of their feed may be removed from the herd.

To make the highest quality of butter, cheese, and ice cream. (The supply of competent men to operate creameries is not equal to the demand.)

To bud and graft, so that the fruit grower may produce and modify his own plants as he may desire.

To mix and use insecticides and fungicides and to fight pests by spraying, fumigating, etc.

To plant and care for citrus and deciduous orchards.

To pick up olives.

To hatch, rear, feed, breed, and care for fowls, grow their feed, and build poultry-yard equipment.

To keep farm accounts, so that it may be plain where is the gain and where the loss in different farm operations.

To build irrigation equipment.

To perform simple surgical operations on farm animals.

To care for farm machinery.

The farmer who wanted to avail himself of all the opportunities offered, would need to come to the Short Courses every year for three or four years. However, the 293 lectures and 258 practical exercises to be given during the Short Courses, between October 5 and November 14, have this year been planned in complete detail, so that the farmer may know the exact day and hour of each of these demonstrations and avail himself of exactly what he wants. An announcement containing this complete schedule for this year's Short Courses will be sent to anyone who writes to the College of Agriculture at Berkeley.

Not the least of the benefits of these Short Courses, the university believes, is the contact at the University Farm with other progressive men, leaders in their respective communities, who have left their business for a short time to acquire new ideas.

Another advantage is the opportunity of seeing the splendid equipment of the University Farm, the herd of 200 Holstein-Friesians, Jerseys, Guernseys, Ayrshires, Herefords, Short Horns and Aberdeen Angus; the flocks of Shropshire, Hampshire, Southdown, Cotswold and Merino sheep; the swine of Poland-China, Berkshire, Duroc, Jerseys, Tamworth, Chester White and Large Yorkshire; the 363 varieties of grapes, growing in the twenty acres of vineyard; the many acres of orchards, and the unequalled equipment for the study of irrigation practice and the duty of water.

Dry-farming methods are thoroughly illustrated, too. During the two years ending June 30, 1913, the rainfall at the University Farm was only 18.3 inches, yet, without irrigation, the average yield of 63 experimental plots of wheat and 41 plots of barley was 39 bushels of wheat, and 91 bushels of barley.

"Would it not be worth while," the university asks the farmers, "to come to the Short Courses at the University Farm and see how this was done?"

PARCEL POST HAS REDUCED LIVING COST SAYS P.O. HEAD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The Post-office department yesterday gave out a report on the experiments conducted in ten cities to determine the value of the parcel post as a direct exchange between the farmers and the city consumers as a means of reducing the high cost of living.

"In the opinion of Postmaster General Burleson and of the postal officials immediately charged with the management of the parcel post system, the report demonstrates that the farm-to-city service has come to stay," says the department.

"Improvements being made and numerous inventions of new containers being put upon the market guarantee rapid growth."

The cities were Washington, D. C., St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore, Atlanta, Birmingham, San Francisco, Rock Island, Ill.; Lynn, Mass., and La Crosse, Wis.

SEA GIRT SHOOT
IS OPENED TODAY

Famous Sharpshooting Contest Engages Militia and U. S. Regulars

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 24.—Selected sharpshooters with rifle and revolver, representing the organized militia of New England and Middle Atlantic states, and the District of Columbia and the United States infantry, cavalry, and marine corps, will compete in the twenty-fourth annual Sea Girt shooting tournament which opened today on New Jersey's range. Other organizations entered are Rifle Association of America, the New Jersey Rifle Association, the New York Rifle Association, and the American Association of International Riflemen. The matches will end September 2. They will be followed, September 3-8, by Divisional Competition A of the national matches, heretofore since 1902 held as a unit here or at Camp Perry.

Sweeping changes in the national rules, the tense competition between the amateur sportsmen and the professional regulars has been made far fairer by eliminating the skirmish-firing, where for successive years the regular service teams have won the national trophy, sometimes over forty or more states; and to spread interest and skill in rifle-shooting among the men actually behind the guns, rather heretofore among officers, ten of the twelve national-match team members must not be enlisted men, an innovation started voluntarily by Ohio and Michigan.

U. S. CANCELS ALL NATIONAL GUARD RIFLE MATCHES

POMONA, Aug. 24.—Every National Guard shooting contest in every state of the Union has been canceled, according to orders which have been received by Major Migley of the Third Battalion of the Seventh Regiment, and Captain Homer L. Duffy of Pomona. Shooting contests were scheduled to take place the coming week in each state, but all of them have been called off by the officials at Washington.

Probably to Save Ammunition

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—Colonel W. G. Schreiber of the Seventh California Infantry, states that he is at a loss to account for the action of the War Department in calling off the National Guard shoot scheduled to take place in Portland on September 3, unless it was the government's desire to save ammunition in view of the present international situation.

Colonel Schreiber has estimated that fully 75,000 rounds of ammunition would be fired in the contests scheduled, in which the national guards of every state would have participated.

VEGETABLE DRUG PLANTS CAN WELL BE GROWN IN U. S.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Every vegetable drug essential to the concoction of medicines can be produced in the United States in greater quantities and finer quality than abroad. This statement was made by Prof. E. L. Newcomb of the University of Minnesota in an address before the convention of the National Association of Retail Druggists.

The speaker told of the development work in his state in the grafting of medicinal plants and declared that the work has progressed far enough to assure American pharmacists that every medicinal plant for which they hitherto have been dependent upon European growers, can be produced in this country.

At the final session yesterday of the women's auxiliary, several hundred dollars was subscribed to aid the American Red Cross in the European war.

SWEDEN REJECTS SUFFRAGE

Cal. D. Lester Has Made Good Record for Efficiency

The statement that Cal. D. Lester, the county auditor, is absolute master of the business detail of his office; that he has placed that office on a plane of the highest efficiency; and that he, more than any other man in the county, by reason of his thorough knowledge of the business of his office, is competent to run that office, has never been refuted by any of his political opponents.

There is good reason for his opponents to maintain silence concerning his record. Grand jury after grand jury have placed the stamp of approval on his work and have spoken in terms of the highest praise of the accuracy and system that have distinguished the conduct of his office. The quality of service given Orange county by its auditor, Cal. D. Lester, is not a point that offers an opportunity for successful attack by his enemies.

The summary of the case which his opponents bring against Lester is that "he has had the office long enough" or that they "do not like him personally."

These arguments may suffice with some people; but with the great body of the voters, the question of "how much service will a man give in return for the salary which we pay him?" will govern their decision.

Each man has his friends and his enemies, who will be influenced by personal considerations; but the big majority of the voters seek only to know what man will give the county the best service, which is the only logical and fair way to decide the issue.

To these voters to whom effective work, faithful service, and devotion to the interests of the county appeal, Mr. Lester addresses his claims for preference. He asks only that his qualifications be weighed against those of his opponents. He asks the voters to consider which man can give the county the best service; and to vote according to the decision.

GOT RECORD PRICE FOR GRAPES GROWN AT VILLA PARK

Orange News: What is heralded as a record price for Concord grapes has been received by Louis DeLong of Villa Park. A shipment of 4,167 pounds of grapes, marketed through the Orange County Vegetable Growers' Association, netted Mr. DeLong the neat sum of $323.60.

The grapes brought an average of nearly 8 cents a pound, which may be better appreciated when compared to an ordinary average of 3½ cents. Most of the grapes were shipped out of the state.

ASKS CO-OPERATION TO AVERT TROUBLE FROM CAR SHORTAGE

Letter on Subject Received Here From State Railroad Commission

A letter from the State Railroad Commission in regard to the threatened car shortage this fall, was received here yesterday. The letter urges all receivers and shippers of carload freight to co-operate in the matter so as to avert any suffering from the shortage as has been the case in years past. The letter follows:

To all Shippers and Receivers of Freight:

Indications point to a serious car shortage during the next few months when a large number of cars will be required to move California traffic. The carriers are apprehensive that the situation in California will be more acute during the next few months than it has been at any time in the past.

The commission, therefore, urges that receivers and shippers of freight in carload lots use every effort to unload and load cars in the shortest space of time possible and when possible, to load cars to their full capacity regardless of the minimum weight applying on the commodity shipped, thereby materially reducing the number of cars required to handle California business. It is also urged that, when possible, advise the carriers from which the cars are ordered, of the quantity of the freight to be transported, to afford the carrier an opportunity to more intelligently supply the equipment required for the particular purpose.

The carriers are requested to handle promptly all carload shipments, to move empty cars to loading points without delay and to promptly repair for service all bad order cars.

The commission is of the opinion that the fullest co-operation of carriers and shippers is necessary to meet the situation.

Yours very truly,

Railroad Commission of the State of California.

HUNTER GETS TWO MEX MELON THIEVES BUT NO COTTONTAIL

Theodore Reuter, 909 Grand avenue, got up at 5 o'clock yesterday morning to go rabbit hunting. He failed to get any cottontail, but he did get two Mexicans who had been in his casaba patch and had pilfered two gunnysacksful of the melons. The two Mexicans were taken to the county jail, where they gave their names as E. Santos and S. Bonilla.

Reuter had done his chores and was waiting on his motorcycle at the corner of Depot and Grand avenue for Elmer Detrich, who lives at the Spurgeon Bungalow apartments, corner Third and Sycamore streets, to join him.

As Dietrich rode his wheel north on Grand avenue he saw two Mexicans leave the melon patch, carrying two loaded sacks. Arriving where Reuter was waiting Dietrich got on the tandem of the machine and both the boys gave chase, catching the Mexicans on Fourth street, near Grand.

Naturally the Mexicans strenuously denied that they had stolen the melons. They said they had bought them at a point about six miles out in the country. However, Dietrich and Reuter "had the goods on them" and made short work of marching the two melon thieves to jail, where Under Sheriff Law took charge of them.

Dietrich got two rabbits, Reuter none.

Reuter says that he has been unable to harvest any melons for about a week owing to the fact that the Mexicans keep his patch thoroughly stripped of the product as soon as it ripens.

Facts About California

(From the Los Angeles Financial News.)

At the apple show, the fifth annual Gravenstein fair, held at Sebastopol, Sonoma County, this week, was shown a locomotive and tender built of apples. Also an exact replica of the Panama Canal constructed of apples, a team and prairie schooner, recalling the days of '49, made of apples, a great fountain made of apples. Solemnizing the entire show, the Pleasant Hill entry with its sacred allegory and happy appropriateness attracted much notice and admiring comment. This exhibit is none other than a representation of the "Rock of Ages," in apples, with the holy emblem of Christendom towering over all—the cross. At the foot of the cross and clinging to it with arms outflung, a figure was depicted, with "The Eternal Light" playing upon the suppliant form. Girdling the "Rock of Ages" were waves, the ebb and flow of which were formed in realistic and striking fashion. Then there was a musician and harp of apples. From the Marshall district was a prettily worked out, artistically conceived design reproducing an old mission fireplace, with the red glow of apples to heighten the realism. It was apples, apples, apples everywhere. The attendance was away up in the thousands.

Twenty tons of Green Gage plums from 93 trees is the harvest of fruit on the ranch of E. Dudley near Selma. Four hundred pounds per tree was the yield.

St. John's bread or locust, that is the carob, is being planted on San Miguel Island. As a fodder plant the carob is said to have no equal. It grows into a flourishing tree, yielding tons of big, long pods, and these pods are full of nourishment and strength, being eagerly devoured by livestock. As an ornamental tree the carob leaves nothing to be desired.

Eighty tons of dried apricots will be handled by the Cured Fruit Association at Elsinore.

John S. Corey, who conducts a large ranch near Nevada City is confronted with the serious problem of protecting his fields from roaming deer. The animals leap any fence he can build and do great damage at night to his crops, especially beans, of which he makes a specialty. Under the game laws Corey does not dare to fire a shot at the marauders. Dogs and scarecrows have proved of no avail in scaring the animals away. The tracks indicate that the deer travel in bands of five to seven.

The world's record raisin shipment, one hundred carloads, comprising one train of 1250 tons net weight, valued at a sum approximated at $150,000, left Fresno Sunday last. The time of the start was made the occasion for a great display of the Fresno business men and boosters. Placards on the train called attention to the fact that the shipment totals 3,000,000 packages of the fruit. Most of this fruit is seeded and is the residue of the 1913 crop.

Twenty dollars per ton for apricot pits is the price paid at Escondido for the seeds. Twelve tons have been shipped from that point to Santa Ana, where they will be used in making flavoring. Pomona also sold two car loads at $25 per ton. The sheath is taken from the pits and the kernels exported to Germany where they are used in making an imitation of almond oil.

The Hemet cannery has finished the year's run of apricots and has started putting up peaches. The cannery handled 500 tons of apricots this year and it is expected that about 1500 tons of peaches will be canned. The cannery employs 300 persons throughout the season and the output is larger than that of any other cannery in Southern California.

For the first time in the history of Nevada County fruits grown there are going to the Eastern markets in carload lots. The Nevada County Cannery Association is making daily shipments. So far about 1000 boxes of Bartlett pears have been sent out. The quality is very high, although the yield is slightly below an average.

Los Angeles county is to have a farm bureau and to that end it is proposed to divide the county into ten or twelve centers which will have a manager who will be director of the farm bureau. A farm bureau is a sort of giant experiment station where hundreds of observers can hold monthly caucuses and compare and study results.

At least 30 per cent of the peach crop of the Visalia district will be a dead loss to the deciduous growers, according to the statements of buyers and packers there, owing to the drastic regulations of the pure food officials of the United States government, enforcement of which practically prohibits the sulphuring of the dried product.

C. W. Buswell, orange grower of the Zante district, Tulare County, has just completed the first setting of trees for what is said to be the largest orange tree nursery in California. At the present time Buswell has set out 275,000 nursery stock, with the loss of but 100.

The barley crop of California this year, the heaviest in 15 years, aggregates 275,000 tons. The greater part of this is exported. In view of the European situation charterers and insurance men are in a quandary as it is feared the grain carrying fleet may be tied up.

Melon shipments from the Turlock district this season were the largest ever recorded there. Almost 200 cars of watermelons were shipped and 125 of cantaloupes. Moving pictures, showing the melon industry, have been taken to be shown at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

On July 20th five crates of Tokay table grapes left Vacaville, consigned to New York. During the week following the shipments totaled 150 crates. The cherry shipments from there are also large and claim is made to honors for early shipments of this fruit.

E. M. Stark, employed by the Stewart Fruit company, of Hanford, wrapped and packed over 400 boxes of fruit in a ten-hour day. He received 2½ cents per box, and his compensation was in excess of $10.

Deer are so plentiful in the Hesperia district in San Bernardino county that ranchers have had to place scarecrows in the fields with rifles clasped in their arms to protect their crops.

Never in the history of the bean industry in California has the supply been so completely exhausted as at present, and seldom has the crop promised a greater yield than this year.

From one lemon tree in the grove of R. S. Miller near Santa Cruz 840 lemons, which are as large as oranges, were gathered this week and 500 more were left on the tree.

There are 36,000 bearing peach trees and 15,000 non-bearing in Shasta County, while the bearing prune trees number 70,000 and the non-bearing 10,000.

Henry M. Ellis has been selected manager of the California Cured Fruit Exchange and will have headquarters in San Francisco.

Butte County last week shipped its first train load of cattle to the East. It was one of the few train loads ever sent from the Pacific Coast.

Farmers in Nevada County held a mass meeting at Grass Valley and took decisive steps to fight the proposed universal eight-hour law.

On the Cowles Orange Grove of eight acres in the Lindsay district, the crop of Valencia oranges this season brought the owner $11,800.

Cotton is now being picked in the Calipatria Valley the value of the crop there this year is estimated at half a million dollars.

Twelve peaches picked from one tree on the Larabee ranch in Tehama County weighed eight pounds.

Orange shipments from Riverside county this season have passed the 4000-car mark.

San Luis Obispo County is rushing its early potato crop to market. The yield is heavy.

Cheese factories in Shasta County this year will turn out 1300 tons of cheese.

During the melon season this year Dinuba district shipped 301 cars.

There are 4500 stands of bees in Butte County.

Pile Up Your Money For a Rainy Day!

ONE of the queerest things about some people is that they will not follow GOOD ADVICE when they KNOW they OUGHT TO. Perhaps we are all more or less that way. All the wise men of all ages have urged their fellow beings to PUT AWAY SOMETHING for a RAINY DAY. Good old Benjamin Franklin's sayings on economy and saving alone ought to make a bank book holder of EVERY ONE. If you have DELAYED, suppose you act HONESTLY with YOURSELF RIGHT NOW.

STANTON CITY IN THROES OF CONTROVERSY

Disincorporation Move Intimated by Opponents of City Hall Project

STANTON, Aug. 24.—This city is in the throes of a controversy which threatens to wipe it off the map. The City Trustees have decided to build a city hall and have advertised for bids for the same. Certain citizens do not want a city hall and are determined not to have one erected since this would help to anchor the city in place and make it more difficult to "upset the government" at some future time.

A sort of petition which seems to amount to a demand has been signed and delivered to the trustees, stating that unless the plans for the city hall are dropped at once steps will be taken to force the abandonment of the plans. This the trustees take to mean that unless they do as some want them to a movement will be started to recall the officials. The city dads have got the bulldog grip on the purpose to build. So it is certain that something is going to happen.

In the event of an attempt to recall the trustees their friends are ready to start out with a petition to disincorporate the city and turn the lands back into ranches instead of city lots.

The city is less than three years old and has been the center for disturbance, due to lack of sameness of vision and harmony in action. It is said that the Stanton City Improvement Company will join in the movement to disincorporate in case it is started.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With it to Restore Color, Gloss, Thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after an other application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

GROVE CHILE CROP $250,000

Acreage This Year is Nearly 2000, Increase From 800

Garden Grove News: Garden Grove will ship more peppers than ever this year. In place of the 800 acres of last season there will be close to 2000 this year. Sit up now and take notice. The valuation of this crop will be over $250,000. That is more than a quarter of a million of dollars. Did you get it? Then holler for Garden Grove. While the prices may not be quite as good as last season, much good money will be made.

Because of the increased acreage and product new facilities for handling are being introduced.

E. C. Ortega has completed his chili pepper warehouse, which he expects to open next Monday. It is located along the line of the new spur track which will serve the new packing-house. The structure is about 18x50 feet, and is enclosed on the north side and east end. The rest is open for convenience in unloading and loading.

Ortega will handle peppers, shipping them to Los Angeles by auto truck. Richey & Baker, of the Red Ball Transfer Company, will do the hauling. This will afford a direct and rapid connection with the canneries which are about to open.

CAMP MEETING OF CHURCH OF CHRIST OPENED ON SUNDAY

The fourth annual camp meeting of the Church of Christ of Southern California opened yesterday at Huntington Beach with a splendid attendance. The large tent on the corner of Fifth and Walnut streets was filled to overflowing at each of yesterday's services. The 8:15 car from Santa Ana carried a large portion of the congregation of this place.

Rev. G. W. Williams of Midvale, Idaho, one of the field editors of the Pacific Tidings was present and delivered splendid sermons in a decisive and convincing manner, which held the large audience in a spell of complete quietness and attention.

The singing was worthy of special mention and was in charge of A. Elmore of Los Angeles, and at noon a bountiful picnic dinner was served in the tent, to which everybody with appetites worked up to high pitch by long rides in the balmy Southern California air did ample justice. The meeting will continue every afternoon and evening for two weeks, with Rev. Williams in charge. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder
Bothers

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

TO PUT SALESMAN OUT TO SELL NEW LADDER MADE HERE

What, from all appearances, marks a new era in ladder manufacturing, both in point of scientific construction and as a local commercial activity, and which also is of large interest to the lemon and orange growers of California, is the product now being placed on the market by H. L. Sawdey, of this city.

After much experimenting along scientific lines to produce a ladder that would stand ordinary rough usage and at the same time embrace the more essential quality of lightness, Sawdey recently applied for patents protecting a ladder that appears to be as near perfect as anything of its kind on the market today. A recent public demonstration of one of these ladders 14 feet long, weighing 32 pounds supporting a combined weight of 2022 pounds attracted much attention.

While patents were pending, Sawdey has been making and selling these ladders, doing the work himself, until now the sales have become too large to be handled in this way, and next week salesmen will take the road for the purpose of distributing printed matter, taking orders, and otherwise more widely exploiting this product. Increased facilities will also be installed to meet the increased demand in its manufacture.

WANT SALT LAKE TO BUILD INTO ORANGE

Orange News: With a view of investigating the report that the Salt Lake railroad intends to build through this section; and, if so, to interest the road in building into Orange, the directors of the Orange Commercial Club last evening decided to appoint a committee to take the matter up.

Reports in the newspapers during the past few weeks have awakened interest in the plans of the Salt Lake and local people desire, if the road is to be built, that Orange shall not be left off the line. President Hagen is to name his committee.

It was also decided last evening to extend an invitation to the Los Angeles County Editorial Association to be the guests of this city Saturday, August 29th, when the association passes through on its way to Modjeska's ranch, where the neighboring editors are to spend a week. A committee consisting of F. A. Grote, E. B. Peers, C. F. Newton and W. O. Hart was appointed to manage the entertainment.

Summer Constipation Dangerous.
Constipation in summer-time is more dangerous than in the fall, winter or spring. The food you eat is often contaminated and is more likely to ferment in your stomach. Then you are apt to drink much cold water during the hot weather, thus injuring your stomach. Colic, Fever, Typhoid, Poisoning and other ills are natural results. Po-Do-Lax will keep you well, as it increases the bile, the natural laxative, which rids the bowels of the congested poisonous waste. Po-Do-Lax will make you feel better. Pleasant and effective. Take a dose tonight. 50c at your Druggist.—Advertisement.

Makes Buildings 30 Degrees Cooler

On a hot summer day the temperature in the upper part of a building covered with J-M Asbestos Ready Roofing is from 15 to 30 degrees cooler than with any other roofing. The white asbestos surface reflects the heat instead of absorbing it and transmitting it to the rooms below.

This is only one of the exclusive features of

J-M ASBESTOS ROOFING

Besides making a building cooler in summer and warmer in winter, it is the only ready roofing that never needs painting. J-M Asbestos is also the only ready roofing that is fire-proof.

Its First Cost Is The ONLY COST.
